HAVE YOU HEARD ...

CAST members of HBO's new comedy, Girls, have been living on The Edge.

The team — which includes Bridesmaids star Chris O'Dowd and Allison Williams, daughter of NBC Nightly News correspondent Brian Williams — shot scenes for the new series in one of the penthouses at the waterfront development.

HBO set designers created a cool bachelor pad, painting the walls blue and decorating it to fit O'Dowd's character on the show.

Girls is “a comic look at the assorted humiliations and rare triumphs of a group of girls in their early 20s,” according to HBO.
